WHAT ARE PEOPLE THINKING? - EDITORIAL

It was reported the Mathew Crooks used a drone to survey the Butler, PA rally location a few hours before Trump took the stage. Probably one of the highest profile incidents which can make our hobby even more bureaucratic. I wonder if he used a remote ID device and had registered with the FAA. I'm thinking there must have been a "No-Fly" zone set up. We better get our flying in while we can. I can just see this as another sound bite for the FAA to make it even harder for us.

NEW MEMBER WELCOME

Brauer's Aviators welcomes our newest member - Cooper Loucks. Please be sure to introduce yourself and say "Hi" when you see him at a meeting or flying at our field.

Identify which item you are bidding on and the amount of your bid. If the in-person bidders do not exceed your bid price, you will win that item at your bid amount. Only send one email bid per item.
